BBQ Competition & Butchers Roadshow 2013

Conference Centre Teagasc Ashtown
Monday 27th May from 3.30pm

GET READY TO BBQ

Neven will help you with BBQ products

Neven Maguire and his team of chefs will judge this years competition

- Each entry costs €45.00 per product entered. Return your entry on the attached form by post or fax. Entry is confirmed only when fee is received.
- Best hygiene practise is required at all stages of the competition
- All meats to be used in the competition must be Irish and should be prepared or processed on the premises of the participant.
- Please describe your entry on the form, e.g. Texas Ribs, Spicy Kebab, BBQ Chicken, (but not in such a way as to identify the entrant e.g. Murphy's Best Burger)
- Entries should have recognisable barbeque characteristics which distinguish them from products intended for other uses (this requirement is interpreted flexibly)
- You may enter a total of six products, but no more than three in any one category.
- Entries will only be accepted from an affiliated shop or member in the competition.
- You must bring one cooked and one uncooked sample per entry.
- The cooked sample should be ideally barbecued
- The organisers accept no responsibility for any damage or loss to entries.
- Entry forms with fees should be with ACBI no later than Thursday 23rd of May.
- Entry will be refused if payment is not made in advance.
- Only paid up members of ACBI are eligible to enter.
- All entries must be brought on a disposable plate or platter ready for display no later than 5pm
- The judges' decision will be final.
- Please note that sausages have been removed from the BBQ Competition and can be entered in the National Sausage and Pudding Competition.

Neven and his team will demonstrate some BBQ techniques and products from 3.30 until 5.30 and there will be trade stands showing products and services for Craft Butchers

Judging commences at 5.30 pm and depending on numbers, results at 8.00
